THIS MONTH'S FEATURES

APECS at Arctic Frontiers 2013

The Arctic Frontiers conference on Geopolitics and Marine Production in a Changing Arctic for 2013 was concluded last week. It was an exciting event with a number of outstanding presentations during both the Policy and Science sections (available online now). It also brought many opportunities for Arctic early career researchers. The

Strengthening cooperation between AGU and APECS

On 31 January 2013, the American Geophysical (AGU) and the Association of Polar Early Career Scientists (APECS) signed a memorandum of understanding (MoU). APECS has organized career development panels and workshop at previous AGU Fall Meetings, and AGU has provided support to APECS members and events. With a shared interest in fostering the next generation of Earth and space scientists involved in polar and cryosphere...

FROM THE PRESIDENT

Greetings APECS members

At the start of 2013 we hit the ground running with many great activities so far! Though we still have a lot of our young polar adventurers and scientists currently on the field to continue their work in the austral summer, we are preparing for more exciting events in the near future. ...

About The Executive Committee

Contact us for details

The Arctic Science Summit Week (ASSW) is an annual gathering of international organizations engaged in supporting and facilitating Arctic research, coordinated by the International Arctic Science Committee (IASC). The purpose of this event is to provide opportunities for international coordination, collaboration and cooperation in all fields of Arctic science and to combine science and management meetings. Every two years during the ASSW a Science Symposium takes place. The upcoming ASSW, together with the Science Symposium entitled The Arctic Hub – Regional and Global Perspectives, will be held on 13-19 April 2013 in Kraków, Poland...
