APECS Director transition

Dear APECS friends and colleagues,

APECS Director position is being re-announced these days at <http://www.jobbnorge.no/job.aspx?jobid=93928>. Though, it is primarily done in connection with a renewal of the contract, it gave me a chance to think about continuation with the APECS Director position. After many considerations, I have decided not to apply for this position in order to ...

First French Polar Week

There is a growing need for improved science communication from polar scientists to communities and classrooms around the world. However, linking people with the often-distant polar regions can be a significant challenge. One way to address this challenge is through an international educational event led by polar scientists called the Inte...
